Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-10 and 15, drawn to a meat processing device.

Group II, claim(s) 11, drawn to a mean for determining the flow rate of comminuted meat.

Group III, claim(s) 12-14, drawn to a method for determining the average fat content of meat in a mixture.

The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: There is no subject matter which is common to all of the claims.

If the Applicant elects Group I, then the following lack of unity requirement is applicable.

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Species I directed to the temperature measurement is arranged in the vicinity of the fat analysis device.

Art Unit: 3643

Species II directed to a speed measurement takes place without pressure after processing.

Species III directed to the speed is measured by an optical method.

Species IV directed the fat analysis device is based on measurement of x-ray radiation transmission.

Species V directed fat analysis takes place in the region of the comminuting unit.

Species VI directed a method for adjusting the fat content.

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Species I as claimed in claim 2.
Species II as claimed in claim 3.
Species III as claimed in claim 4.
Species IV as claimed in claim 5.
Species V as claimed in claims 6-10.
Species VI as claimed in claim 15.

Art Unit: 3643

The following claim(s) are generic: claim 1.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: The claimed meat processing device including a fat analysis device , a temperature measurement means and a speeding measurement means is taught in the reference to Collins et al. US Patent 4,566,312. And as such, the independent claim 1 does not have a special technical feature.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.
